Exercise #2
DVD Processing

In this exercise you will identify the costs that you would need to know to determine whether or not it is cost effective to outsource the processing of DVDs.

The Anytown Public Library is interested in analyzing whether or not it is cost effective to outsource the processing of the DVDs it purchases. It has received a quote from a library vendor of $1.15 per DVD to provide processed DVDs. What costs would the library have to identify to determine whether or not this is a good deal? How would the library determine these costs?

Cost	How cost determined

Measuring Library Costs and Benefits Winter/Spring 2008 - This material has been created by Jeanne Goodrich for the Infopeople Project [infopeople.org], supported by the U.S. Institute of Museum and Library Services under the provisions of the Library Services and Technology Act, administered in California by the State Librarian. Any use of this material should credit the author and funding source.