

The Deweyless Library: An Innovative Approach
Resource List
February 2009

Book Industry Study Group. December 18, 2008. Book Industry Standards and Communications (BISAC). February 1, 2009.

http://www.bisg.org/standards/bisac\_subject/major\_subjects.html

Dolinski, Catherine. "Libraries offer Plenty for Storms to Stew Over." Tampa Tribune. December 19, 2008. February 1, 2009.

www2.tbo.com/content/2008/dec/19/na-libraries-offer-plenty-for-storms-to-stew-over/news-metro/

Korkki, Phyllis. "Can Bookstores Teach Others a Thing or Two?" The New York Times. December 21, 2008.

query.nytimes.com/gst/fullpage.html?res=9D07E0D61238F932A15751C1A96E9C8B63

Maricopa County Library Council. December 17, 2008. Adult Services Committee. February 5, 2009.

<http://www.mclcaz.org/page/Adult+Services+Committee>

OCLC. Perceptions of Libraries and Information Resources; a report to the OCLC membership (2005) OCLC. Ohio, Dublin.

www.oclc.org/reports/2005perceptions.htm

Oldenburg, Ray. The Great Good Place: Cafes, Coffee Shops, Bookstores, Bars, Hair Salons, and Other Hangouts at the Heart of a Community. New York: Perseus Publishing, 1999.

Underhill, Paco. Why We Buy: The Science of Shopping. New York: Simon & Schuster Adult Publishing Group, 2000.