

New Media and Youth

How the Coming Generations Search for Information

Resources:

Pew Internet & American Life Project: Teens and Technology

www.pewinternet.org/pdfs/PIP_Teens_Tech_July2005web.pdf

A study by the Pew Research Center on youth (aged 12-17) use of technology and varying types of media in their daily lives.

Pew Internet & American Life Project: Social Networking Sites & Teens

www.pewinternet.org/pdfs/PIP_SNS_Data_Memo_Jan_2007.pdf

An overview of youth (aged 12-17) use of social networking sites: the ways in which the sites are used and the reasons kids give for using them.

Children of the Web

www.businessweek.com/magazine/content/07_27/b4041401.htm

Explores the emergence of a global youth culture and a digital elite who are exchanging information, ideas, and culture instantly across borders around the world.

Kids, Youth, & Digital Technology: New Global Study

biz.yahoo.com/prnews/070724/nytu109.html?.v=98

A report examines the differences in how technology is used by youth across cultures.

Pay Attention!

www.youtube.com/watch?v=aEFKfXiCbLw

Since most of today's students can appropriately be labeled as "Digital Learners," why do so many teachers refuse to enter the digital age with their teaching practices? This presentation was created in an effort to motivate teachers to more effectively use technology in their teaching.

Did You Know? Shift Happens: Globalization & the Information Age

www.youtube.com/watch?v=ljbI-363A2Q

Created by Karl Fisch, modified by Scott McLeod; Examines effects of globalization.