Before Disaster Strikes: Ten Things You Need to Know
Julie Page, California Preservation Program

California Preservation Program
CalPreservation.org
Provides preservation related resources for libraries and other cultural institutions in California. The Emergency Planning & Response section includes a Generic Disaster Plan, Disaster Exercise, and links to resources. Library disaster or preservation related questions may be sent to: info@CalPreservation.org. Emergency assistance: 888-905-7737 (24/7 toll-free)

CoOL Conservation OnLine
palimpsest.stanford.edu
“A project of the Preservation Dept. of Stanford University Libraries, is a full text library of conservation information ... of interest to those involved with the conservation of library, archives, and museum materials.”

Disaster Preparedness and Response is one of the conservation topics that includes a wealth of information linking to organizations (e.g., LC, NEDCC, SOLINET), disaster plans, and a broad spectrum of other disaster/emergency resources.

Emergency Response and Salvage Wheel and Field Guide to Emergency Response
The Wheel is a user friendly slide chart providing quick access to essential information on protecting and salvaging collections. Text of the Wheel is available at the FEMA website: www.fema.gov/plan/ehp/response.shtm
The Field Guide and its accompanying DVD provide clear, practical advice to help you with initial response and salvage steps. This authoritative, hands-on advice was developed by conservation professionals for staff at museums, libraries, and archives. For order information see: https://www.heritagepreservation.org/catalog

Kahn, Miriam B. Disaster Response and Planning for Libraries. 2nd ed. ALA, 2003. Comprehensive resource guide for all types of libraries, updated to include terrorist and other case studies. Includes checklists, forms, contracts for vendors and supplies, and a list of resources.

Kahn, Miriam B. Protecting Your Library’s Digital Sources. ALA, 2004. An e-preservation resource for librarians, preservationists, archivists and records managers who create and maintain electronic records. Includes extensive checklists and forms.

Before Disaster Strikes, November 2006 – Produced by Julie Page, CPP, for the Infopeople Project, infopeople.org. The Infopeople Project and the California Preservation Program are projects of the California State Library, supported by the U.S. Institute of Museum and Library Services under the provisions of the Library Services and Technology Act, administered in California by the State Librarian. Any use of this material should credit the author and funding source.