

BOOKS AND WEBSITES CITED IN THE INFOPEOPLE WEBINAR “RESURRECTING REFERENCE”

Presented by
Joan Frye Williams and George Needham
July 31, 2008

Beck, John C. and Mitchell Wade. The Kids Are Alright: How the Gamer Generation Is Changing the Workplace. (Boston: Harvard University Press, 2006) Also check out John’s website at <http://www.nslg.net/index.html>.

DeRosa, Cathy et al. From Awareness to Funding: A Study of Library Support in America. (Dublin, Ohio: OCLC, 2008) <http://www.oclc.org/reports/funding>.

Lankes, David. “America’s Libraries in the 21st Century Now Available Online.” Virtual Dave...Real Blog, July 6, 2008. <http://quartz.syr.edu/rdlankes/blog/?p=510>. Includes video of the Office for Information Technology Policy program at the American Library Association’s 2008 conference in Anaheim. Speakers include Stephen Abram, José-Marie Griffith, David Lankes and Joan Frye Williams.

Needham, George and Joan Frye Williams. George and Joan: Thinking Out Loud. Infopeople podcasts available at <http://feeds.feedburner.com/InfoblogGeorgeAndJoan>

Pink, Daniel. A Whole New Mind: Why Right Brainers Will Rule the Future. (New York: Riverhead, 2006.) Also, check out Dan’s website at <http://www.danpink.com/>.