

It's Who You Know:
Finding, Making,
and Keeping Connections for Successful Community Partnerships

Infopeople webinars are supported by the U.S. Institute of Museum and Library Services under the provisions of the Library Services and Technology Act, administered in California by the State Librarian.

ERICA CUYUGAN
SARAH BLEYL
CARISSA PURNELL

California Libraries...
(all bad)

"California Governor Jerry Brown announced Tuesday a mid-year, $16 million cut to state library funding, which essentially eliminates all remaining state funding for the California Library Services Act \(CLSA\), the California Library Literacy and English Acquisition Service, and the Public Library Foundation \(PLF\). Last year the programs received $30.4 million"
(Library Journal December 14, 2011. "With Mid-Year Cut, California Reduces State Funding for Libraries to Zero")

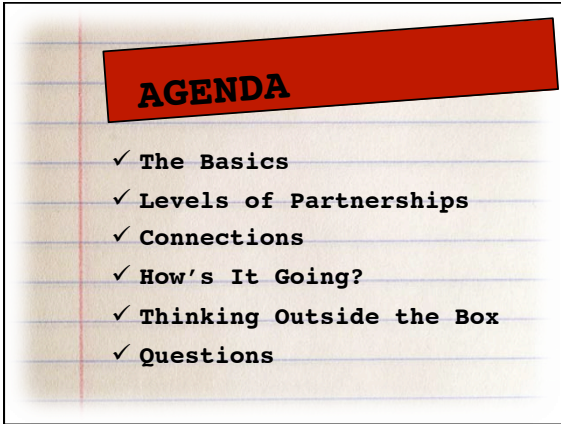

Why Community?

"Once social change begins, it cannot be reversed. You cannot uneducate the person who has learned to read. You cannot humiliate the person who feels pride. You cannot oppress the people who are not afraid anymore. We have seen the future, and the future is ours."

Cesar Chavez

This material has been created for the Infopeople Project [infopeople.org], and has been supported in part by the U.S. Institute of Museum and Library Services under the provisions of the Library Services and Technology Act, administered in California by the State Librarian. This material is licensed under a Creative Commons 3.0 Share & Share-Alike license. Use of this material should credit the author and funding source.

AGENDA

- ✓ The Basics
- ✓ Levels of Partnerships
- ✓ Connections
- ✓ How's It Going?
- ✓ Thinking Outside the Box
- ✓ Questions

What does "Partnership" mean?

part-ner v. 1. to partner sb at bridge, tango. 2 (phr v) to partner with sb. 2) cause two people to partner. 2) We (were) part-ner-ship | being a partner or partner in partnership. He worked in partnership. He is a partner. He is a brother.

the basics

- WHAT is our definition of partnership?
- WHY are partnerships beneficial?
- KNOW your community FIRST.

This material has been created for the Infopeople Project [infopeople.org], and has been supported in part by the U.S. Institute of Museum and Library Services under the provisions of the Library Services and Technology Act, administered in California by the State Librarian. This material is licensed under a Creative Commons 3.0 Share & Share-Alike license. Use of this material should credit the author and funding source.

This material has been created for the Infopeople Project [infopeople.org], and has been supported in part by the U.S. Institute of Museum and Library Services under the provisions of the Library Services and Technology Act, administered in California by the State Librarian. This material is licensed under a Creative Commons 3.0 Share & Share-Alike license. Use of this material should credit the author and funding source.

Who's In Your Community?

Arts, Sports & Leisure Local Businesses (Restaurants, Dance Studios, Galleries, Retail Stores) Media (Print, Online, Radio, Television) Cultural Organizations Museums Parks & Recreation Department Local Sports Teams	Youth PTA's School Districts (Teachers, Librarians, Counselors) Boys and Girls Club Afterschool programs Teen/Youth Centers
Education Community Colleges UC's and CSU's Test Prep Companies	Legal County Probation Juvenile Detention Facilities Law Enforcement
Health County Health Departments Health Clinics Fitness or Nutrition Specialists Farmers' Markets	Other Potential Partners Nonprofits Faith-based Organizations Public Transportation Departments Local Government Banks and Financial Institutions Chamber of Commerce

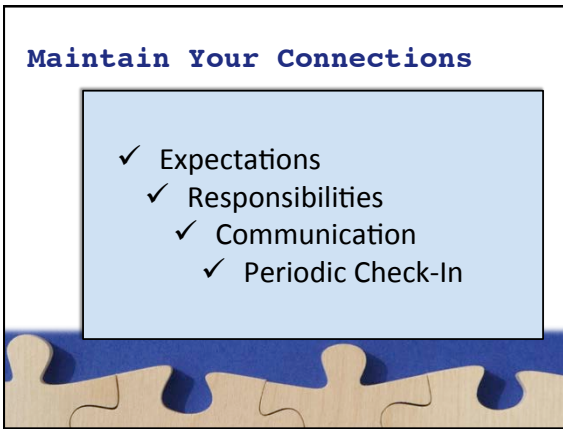

Types of Contacts

- ❖ In Your Network
- ❖ "Friend of a Friend"
- ❖ New Contact

This material has been created for the Infopeople Project [infopeople.org], and has been supported in part by the U.S. Institute of Museum and Library Services under the provisions of the Library Services and Technology Act, administered in California by the State Librarian. This material is licensed under a Creative Commons 3.0 Share & Share-Alike license. Use of this material should credit the author and funding source.

This material has been created for the Infopeople Project [infopeople.org], and has been supported in part by the U.S. Institute of Museum and Library Services under the provisions of the Library Services and Technology Act, administered in California by the State Librarian. This material is licensed under a Creative Commons 3.0 Share & Share-Alike license. Use of this material should credit the author and funding source.

Nothing is perfect...work with it...

Whether or not you may know it there is a political implication to everything you do as a public servant...

KNOW your councilmembers, district lines, where local agencies receive funding, know what partnerships currently exist, do your research...

Otherwise... you'll get lemons...

Taking lead from the "cool" crowd...NYPL
Reality Check: We all don't have millions of dollars...

New York Public Library hosted JayZ and Cornel West to discuss his new book titled, Decoded. This inspired youth in Salinas to do design their own hip hop driven program with the book as the catalyst using digital media to bring JayZ into our library.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=7bH2xe5XMPs>
<http://www.flickr.com/photos/aliterarymarvel/sets/72157627481157032/>

Keeping it Old School...teaching everything
Including milking a cow...

Children milk cow in library
"A dozen or so children practiced milking a cow at the Luther Callaway Public Library in Chiefland on Friday (July 15) as part of a program presented by Dana Langford of Levy County Soil and Water Conservation...."
(<http://hardisonink.com/review.php?page=1311206986.html>)

This material has been created for the Infopeople Project [infopeople.org], and has been supported in part by the U.S. Institute of Museum and Library Services under the provisions of the Library Services and Technology Act, administered in California by the State Librarian. This material is licensed under a Creative Commons 3.0 Share & Share-Alike license. Use of this material should credit the author and funding source.

Breaking Tradition: Soccer @ the Library!

California State University Monterey Bay has provided over 100 college student volunteers for library programming. One including free bilingual soccer clinics that have served an upwards of 1,000 youth and spawned a community wide clinic beginning January 2012.

PRESS COVERAGE:
Good Monday Morning: Salinas man scores with free soccer camp for kids. May 30, 2011
La Biblioteca César Chávez Ofrece Grátis Clínica de Fútbol Para Niños. El Sol. September 24, 2011.

unique connections
HACKER SPACE!

The Allen County Public Library, which serves the city of Fort Wayne, Ind., has a modest hackerspace inside a trailer in its parking lot. Library director Jeff Krull says hosting it is consistent with the library's mission. "We see the library as not being in the book business, but being in the learning business and the exploration business and the expand-your-mind business," he says. "We feel this is really in that spirit, that we provide a resource to the community that individuals would not be able to have access to on their own." (www.npr.org)

Your "Community" as a Partner

While organizations often bring to the table resources and expertise, community resident themselves bring a lived experience no group can replicate...recognize the talents within your own communities.

Check Out KQED's Mindshift article, "The Public Library as an Incubator for the Arts" that highlights the potential of local community level arts based programming.

<http://mindshift.kqed.org/2012/01/the-public-library-as-an-incubator-for-the-arts/>

This material has been created for the Infopeople Project [infopeople.org], and has been supported in part by the U.S. Institute of Museum and Library Services under the provisions of the Library Services and Technology Act, administered in California by the State Librarian. This material is licensed under a Creative Commons 3.0 Share & Share-Alike license. Use of this material should credit the author and funding source.

Expand Your Network

- Attend Community or School Functions
- Sponsor a Booth at Local Festivals
- Join a Task Force or Committee
- Take a Walk or Pick Up the Phone
- Learn to ask "Why Not?"

What are some other ways to expand your network?

QUESTIONS

Coming together is a beginning. Keeping together is progress. Working together is success.
-Henry Ford

Sarah Bleyl, Kern County Library
sarah.bleyl@kerncountylibrary.org

Erica Cuyugan, Santa Monica Public Library
erica.cuyugan@smgov.net

Carissa Purnell, Salinas Public Library
carissapurnell@gmail.com

THANKS FOR TUNING IN!

This material has been created for the Infopeople Project [infopeople.org], and has been supported in part by the U.S. Institute of Museum and Library Services under the provisions of the Library Services and Technology Act, administered in California by the State Librarian. This material is licensed under a Creative Commons 3.0 Share & Share-Alike license. Use of this material should credit the author and funding source.