

Chat Session for Youth Media Activities in Your Community: Teaching Digital Natives

12:37:31 PM from ellen slick to All Participants:
was this edited on the iphone 4 as well?

12:38:17 PM from Eva Mitnick to All Participants:
What app was used to edit?

12:38:58 PM from Brittany Potter to All Participants:
I know a lot of my teens enjoy digital technology, but it's funny how many don't like e-books, pesay

12:40:38 PM from Brittany Potter to All Participants:
They'd rather read printed material, or type something out on a laptop rather than smartphones...they only use the smartphone web usage to check Facebook and Twitter generally

12:40:54 PM from Brittany Potter to All Participants:
I think so, not sure

12:41:06 PM from Infopeople Project to patric stillman (privately):
hard time hearing

12:41:15 PM from Jodi Cilley to All Participants:
We used iMovie app for editing the videos.

12:41:23 PM from Infopeople Project to patric stillman (privately):
can you turn up your sound

12:41:41 PM from Jodi Cilley to All Participants:
Yes, it was edited on the iphone and uploaded to youtube from the iphone. It never touched a computer.

12:41:53 PM from Eva Mitnick to All Participants:
We'd love more details about how these cool programs and projects were planned and implemented. Will that be made available to us?

12:41:58 PM from Demetria Tucker to All Participants:
Anna has a great question concerning permissison for posting videos produced by youth? Is there a form or is it required?

12:41:58 PM from patric stillman to Infopeople Project (privately):
its turnecup all the way

12:42:13 PM from ellen slick to All Participants:
geat!

12:42:48 PM from Infopeople Project to All Participants:

Chat Session for Youth Media Activities in Your Community: Teaching Digital Natives

<http://infopeople.org/training/youth-media-activities>

12:43:01 PM from eileen oshea to All Participants:

Handouts and archive can be found here:

<http://infopeople.org/training/youth-media-activities>

12:43:14 PM from amy mahnke to All Participants:

We can shoot and edit on iphone?

12:43:18 PM from Jodi Cilley to All Participants:

If youth appear in a video, we need parental permission.

12:43:37 PM from Amber O'Brien-VerHulst to All Participants:

Is the equipment owned by the library? Or is this something that you would ask a partner to provide?

12:43:47 PM from eileen oshea to All Participants:

Yes, you can download the iMovie app for the iPhone.

12:43:58 PM from Jodi Cilley to All Participants:

Amy- you can download the iMovie app (4.99) and are able to record video, audio and include music and photos very easily.

12:44:16 PM from amy mahnke to All Participants:

thanks

12:44:58 PM from eileen oshea to All Participants:

And for Android phones:

<http://blog.krama.tv/5-best-video-editing-apps-for-android-devices/>

12:45:04 PM from Jodi Cilley to All Participants:

Amber- In this case, the library owns the phones but sometimes outside agencies can provide the equipment.

12:45:33 PM from Amber O'Brien-VerHulst to All Participants:

Cool! Thanks :)

12:45:50 PM from Infopeople Project to patric stillman (privately):

is your sound up high?

12:46:30 PM from Amber O'Brien-VerHulst to All Participants:

Whole new meaning to "car stereo"

12:46:42 PM from eileen oshea to All Participants:

madpad: <http://www.smule.com/madpad>

Chat Session for Youth Media Activities in Your Community: Teaching Digital Natives

12:47:00 PM from eileen oshea to All Participants:
it's for iphone or ipad

12:48:04 PM from Brittany Potter to All Participants:
See, I love that project! Introducing new technologies to traditional media like books, it still makes it a library project in that sense

12:52:40 PM from amy mahnke to All Participants:
and easy...well mostly!

12:54:06 PM from amy mahnke to All Participants:
a cool part of this program is training teens to teach other teens how to do Scratch!

12:54:49 PM from Brittany Potter to All Participants:
They really do learn so much by teaching each other, it's amazing

12:55:33 PM from patric stillman to Infopeople Project (privately):
teens.dbri.org

12:56:10 PM from Demetria Tucker to All Participants:
Are you using volunteers to teach the classes or staff?

12:57:11 PM from Jodi Cilley to All Participants:
Demetria- not sure what all libraries are doing but from my reasearch, it looks like they partner with local community agencies, or contract teachers etc.

12:58:22 PM from amy mahnke to All Participants:
I think training the teens to train other teens would work well here.

12:58:30 PM from Demetria Tucker to All Participants:
Thank you. Having difficulty with partnerships and recruitment. Haven't given up..still trying.

12:58:40 PM from April Hayley to All Participants:
Thank you! Very helpful!

12:59:40 PM from amy mahnke to All Participants:
St Paul, MN actually got a grant to have a program to do this: teens trainnig teens

12:59:51 PM from eileen oshea to All Participants:
Dec webinar archive:
<http://infopeople.org/training/building-digital-communities-through-blogs-and-social-networking>

Chat Session for Youth Media Activities in Your Community: Teaching Digital Natives

13:00:12 PM from amy mahnke to All Participants:
I know isn't it!

13:00:12 PM from Brittany Potter to All Participants:
Thanks!

13:00:23 PM from eileen oshea to All Participants:
Oct webinar archive: <http://infopeople.org/training/using-smartphones>

13:00:28 PM from Linda Williams to All Participants:
Thank you!

13:00:33 PM from Demetria Tucker to All Participants:
Thank you

13:00:43 PM from amy mahnke to All Participants:
Check out Youmedia at the Chicago Public Library.