

Text Chat Transcript for What's New with Children's Literature: 2015 Update

Wendy Newell:I loved El Deafo

megan.fox:El Deafo was wonderful! particularly for those of us who were children in the 1970s!

Crystal:I love This one Summer

Melesha:Hello All!

Becky Steenburg:Little Roja is FANTASTIC! My storytime families loved it - we've read it twice already!

Sharon Lux:When will the handouts be available?

Allison Madsen:Becky that is great to know

Sharon Lux:I just went there

Morgan:Scroll down toward the bottom Sharon

Morgan:I missed them the first time too :)

Stanley Strauss:The handouts are at the bottom of the Webinar Description page listed above.

Gabriella Lopez:Sorry - what is the target age group for Sibert?

carol shields:Hello from Monterey County Free Libraries

Wendy Newell:A Boy and a Jaguar is really good too

Christine Miller:Hi from San Diego Public! Common Core resources will be great!

gbravo:what was that publisher again?

gbravo:starbright?

gbravo:thank you

Stanley Strauss:<http://www.starbrightbooks.org>

Emily Riewerts:a coworker just pointed out that according to Before After, the chicken came before the egg....

Edith Sutterlin:I love that Wolfie one, I have seen that.

megan.fox:Smick! is a fun book and I've used it in story time

Becky Steenburg:nancy Tafuri rocks!

Becky Steenburg:I love using nonfiction books in Storytime!

Michelle Bullock:lol

Becky Steenburg::D

martha luna:hi

Michelle Bullock:That's what I thought was happening

Emily Riewerts:I need to get more brave about using nf during storytime

pearl goldtooth:hi

Xuemin Zhong:Using nonfiction is great—you can follow up with a craft. We sow seeds after a gardening storytime and making our own bubbles after a bubbles/bathtime storytime

Allison Madsen:Many many kids can't get enough

Edith Sutterlin:I have always used nonfiction books - esp. on bears, etc.

Becky Steenburg:Emily, my latest success was a group of books called "Bright, Lively and Loud: What Am I?" there's a series of them and they help us to discover animals

Edith Sutterlin:You can use the pictures and talk about them even if you don't read full text.

Allison Madsen:I use it to support the talking side of the Early literacy

Allison Madsen:That would be wonderful to have the chat

Sharon Lux:That would be great!

Stanley Strauss:Yes, we'll save the chat and it will be available on the archived webinar page.

Emily Riewerts:Thanks Becky! I'll look into them.

Becky Steenburg:Resurrect Hank the Cow Dog!

Jill Nevins:Elephant and Piggie are the best!!

Edith Sutterlin:Luke on the loose : a Toon book / by Harry diversity early reader

Edith Sutterlin:a little behind, just trying to remember title. one I like.

Jessica Robbins:They are all part of our Easy section itself

Meaghan Weiner:We call these In-Betweeners

Fran Caldwell:I wish our library did that !

Becky Steenburg:I just separated my juvi fiction out to Early Readers guest 2:We keep beginning readers separate but all the "chapter books" are together.

Michelle Bullock:That's how our area is set up as well.

megan.fox:We have most of our transitional books in our "J Series" section

Denise Nunez:We have a separate "Bridges" section

Becky Steenburg:Some of the stuff from Beginning Reader went into that new section too

Amanda:Ours are with our chapter books, but they have a green dot on them showing that they are for younger children.

Edith Sutterlin:same here, mostly either in children's series

carolyn reed:Easy Chapter Books @ COLAPL

Lisa Dam:I LOVE Kate DiCamillo's books! Mercy Watson is so much fun as a read-aloud.

Michelle Bullock:Fun

Michelle Bullock:ew

Christine Miller:We shelve Easy Chapter books as 3-4 readers in a collection that also houses 1-2 readers

Allison Madsen:I also love the Note book of Doom series

Edith Sutterlin:nonfiction for bears storytime - used Bears- Look & Learn (National Geographic Kids) Let's look at brown bears / Ruth Berman

Penny Peck>Welcome to BerMooda by Mike Litwin

Edith Sutterlin:added in blueberries for Sal with those bear books, sort of nf/fiction transition in storytime

Becky Steenburg:Over the Hills is beautiful

Morgan:I was just saying that Becky!

Allison Madsen:Did you see that Kate DiCamillo is champion the Collaborative Summer Library Program?! So much fun

Becky Steenburg:yay, Kate!

evelyn stegemiller:Great ideas Edith!

Penny Peck:Toon books

Becky Steenburg:Toon books are awesome!

Becky Steenburg:We put all of our Easy Graphic novels together (separate from Juvi)

Lisa Dam:What a great idea Becky, they tend to get lost amongst some of the more lengthier graphics.

Becky Steenburg:Yes. They are physically next to the beginning reader and wordless books.

Christine Miller:Strike is incredible!

megan.fox:Kis love any shark books and Neighborhood Sharks is awesome carolyn reed:Who's barking?

Michelle Bullock:LOL Me

Michelle Bullock:JK

Morgan:All 3 of those sound good to me!

Edith Sutterlin:Firebird - a picture book, but also good for transitional, I think.

Amanda:Down Girl and Sit series by Nolan

Fran Caldwell:The book about Typhoid Mary was fascinating!

guest 6:I survived series - very good too.

Bethany':For Nonfiction - any Steve Jenkins, especially Creature Features

Teri Bendekgey:viva frida

Michelle Bullock:Will you email a link when the recording is available?

Stephanie Bange:There are two on Typhoid Mary coming out this spring

Edith Sutterlin:also by Gail Gibbons - of course.

Armin Arethna:Hi Stephanie!

megan.fox:Great nonfiction series—"You wouldn't want to ..."

Francie North:If anyone works near a Navy base, Piper Reed, Navy Brat series is popular with Navy parents.

Allison Madsen:I love Piper Reed:)

Jill Nevins:Owl Diaries—very cute easy reader series (part of the Scholastic Branches books) guest 6:=> met them at a Independent Booksellers conference - very interesting. :)

megan.fox:The war that saved my life is a wonderful book!

SandyJ:live a few miles from a Harvey House :)

Fran Caldwell:I knew of them!

Stephanie Bange:Harvey Girls worked in the Grand Canyon!

SandyJ:Kansas too

Stephanie Bange:It's in my pile to read..

Becky Steenburg:<https://vimeo.com/ondemand/23102>

Michelle Bullock:Thanks for the link, Becky!

Becky Steenburg:I love Greenglass House!! I haven't finished it yet, but it's wonderful Stephanie Bange:Great mystery—one of the best written recently!

Penny Peck:Christopher Edge

Armin Arethna:Sure to surprise you!

Penny Peck:Twelve Minutes to Midnight

Becky Steenburg:Twelve Minutes to Midnight ( Penelope Tredwell Mysteries #01 ) -

Accelerated Reader Contributor(s): Edge, Christopher (Author) ISBN: 080758133X

guest 5:I'm looking to read this book too. Lots of good reviews.

Becky Steenburg:Anybody read Shannon Messenger's Keeper of the Lost Cities books? I love them!!

guest 6:read the 8th Continent series - adventure/ecology book

Becky Steenburg:You're welcome - they are great!

carol shields:Lug, Dawn of the Ice Age (David Zeltzer) very funny but topical—climate change deniers in the Ice Age!

guest 6:Spirit Animals - love them and they are fun online too.

guest 6:Katie Woo is a great series too for younger readers.

Allison Madsen:All four stars by Tara Daiman

Courtney:Rain Reign by Ann M. Martin

megan.fox:Moonpenny Island by Tricia Springstubb and Stella by Starlight by Sharon M. Draper

Jill Nevins:Listen,Slowly by Thanhha Lai (diversity and wonderful!)

Becky Steenburg:A great book about diversity is "The Sandwich Swap" by Queen Rania Al Abdullah

Penny Peck:<http://www.bayviews.org/institute.html>

megan.fox:really liked Listen, Slowly

Armin Arethna:Great institute!

Edith Sutterlin:Alvin Ho, both anxiety and Chinese American child.

Michelle Bullock:Great for SRP

Amanda:I love Alvin Ho books too—so good!

Stephanie Bange:The Red Pencil reads so quickly—free verse.

Becky Steenburg:28 Days is really neat.

carolyn reed:Why do you think free verse is finding greater publishing success?

Xuemin Zhong:If you're looking for Asian American titles, take a look at Asian Pacific American Librarians Association's (APALA) award winners:

<http://www.apalaweb.org/awards/literature-awards/>

guest 6:free verse are easy to read megan.fox:Gordon Parks is a good read

Nancy BoDancy:Thank you! Catch the rest later.

Becky Steenburg:book with no pictures is funny!!!

guest 6:Long Haul is funny....:)

Michelle Bullock:That's a fantastic book for storytime

Nancy Kleban:So worthwhile, informative, pertinent, and useful!!!!

Lisa Dam:Novak's book is so funny

Edith Sutterlin:Book with No pictures- enjoy the video with the author reading online as well as reading to Any age

Diane 2:I love "The Book With No Pictures." It's a great read-aloud.

megan.fox:Do you use the book with no pictures for a specific storytime theme?

Ann Coleman:The Book With No Pictures is the greatest read a-loud in a long time

Diane 2:It's a hilarious title with a play on words and sound.

Becky Steenburg:I am using book with no pictures next Friday for storytime.

Edith Sutterlin:I used it for a class visit when talking about picture books that are good for older ages as well.

Edith Sutterlin:as well as for silly storytimes

Michelle Bullock:<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=cREyQJO9EPs>

Emily Riewerts:I read The Day the Crayons Quit for a young authors fair for ages ranging from K-6 and I got laughs from all ages!

Michelle Bullock:Book with No Pictures video megan.fox:LOVE The Day the Crayons Quit!

Angela:scorch trials will be out

Michelle Bullock:Love the crayon quit book!

Angela:spetember 18th 2015

Stephanie Bange:My favorite prof book too! So many fun details1

Edith Sutterlin:Betsy Bird is a NYPL librarian

Becky Steenburg:Want to take a moment to plug, "Twenty-First-Century Kids, Twenty-First-Century Librarians" by Virginia A. Walter - REad it!

Wendy Newell>About The Day the Crayons Quit i had a young girl tell me we had to get it because it was just the best book in the world guest 6:Minions - Avengers - good books for kids to read too. :)

Christine Miller:Thank you! Lots to follow up on..

guest 6:movie tie-ins this summer

Eileen O'Shea:next week's webinar on YA lit:

<https://infopeople.org/civicrm/event/info?reset=1&id=480>

Eileen O'Shea:thanks for the plug, penny!

megan.fox:Novelist K-8 is an awesome database! Use it almost every day

Edith Sutterlin: This has been a REALLY good introduction highlighting new books
