Tamiko W.:Heard about this one

Shondra:yes

Cheryl:Oh yeah! :D

Patrina Garza:yes! Great america! and I am from San Antonio...ah great memories! :)

Abby:Yeah got an email about it.

Dana Still:more barfy for me!

Sean:We just acquired some, it's very clever

Stacey:Yes, very fun!

Jen Bell:yes

Joy:just had a program with it

Susan Reynolds:yes

Susie Arvidson:The roller coasters I've been on has been so rough that I wonder how the headset would stay on.

Ian Boucher:Popular with our students, I'm working with faculty to integrate it into courses

Susie Arvidson:Very interested in this type of thing....using the cardboard

Scott Bauer:The cardboard was fun to use

Laura Solomon:Vrse

Sean:Sadly there's a lot of spammy apps too - I've encountered a lot of games that are really basic and all have the same graphics/format, but display ads as you play. Usually only one screen is the entire game too.

Sean:Haha, true

Chuck O'Shea - Infopeople:Really looking forward to going to CES in January to see what the have new with VR

andrew hissett:messes with your equilibrium i hear

Elayna:I have motion sickness issues and the Oculus Rift makes me nauseous. We actually had a staff member vomit. Lots of reports from patrons of feeling dizzy from it.

Claire Nickerson:If you watch people testing the OR, they tend to flail around and accidentally hit people nearby

Elayna:Yes.

June 15, 2016

Lorelette Knowles:Yes

Wei:yes

Karla:I've seen this across my devices and it's CREEPY for sure.

Karla:and super accurate

Karla:accurate

Sean:Tech moving so fast has turned the world into a day care - lawmakers are struggling to keep up with all the kids who want to see how much they can get away with Erin:I play spider solitaire and it will pop up with an ad for the exact same yoga pants I was looking to buy on the web but didnt.

Danielle Costello:yep same with my nuts.com order on facebook jamie:Can they watch us if we go through databases?

Chuck O'Shea - Infopeople:I'm in both lists

Patrina Garza:Wow...

Patrina Garza:I didn't know that all that webcame content is available online!

Jill Sumpter:Saw a demo where someone access a refrig thru its internet connection and gained access to the entire home network, including opening the front door.

Sean:DDoS is the easiest attack to carry out - yet so many continue to not even bother with basic defense against them.

Kzink:yikes!

Tamiko W.:Patrons already seem paranoid and worried about privacy.

Claire Nickerson:May we have permission to use your slides for patron presentations?

Tamiko W.:i will

Chat from: Emerging Tech Trends in Libraries - Part 4

June 15, 2016

Claire Nickerson:Will do

Sean:Not killbots

carol:what do you think about making library websites https?

Jill Sumpter:yes

Sean:Microsoft wants SO MUCH info from you, I keep Cortana OFF

Elayna:Sean, that's the same reason I refuse to implement Cortana.

Sean:I'm sure they collect various information anyways, but what they actual described in running Cortana was just ludicrous

Sean:actually*

Darci:microsoft is also releasing a bot development platform

jeffrey:UC Irvine has a bot for FAQ <http://www.lib.uci.edu/answers>

Diane 3:Is this being recorded? If so, will you include the chat, please?

andrew hissett:yes please

Mary Augugliaro - Infopeople:Yes. The recording and chat transcript will be available <https://infopeople.org/civCRM/event/info?reset=1&id=551>

andrew hissett:awesome

Danielle Costello:Thinking on it now there are some pretty sophisticated dating bots

Danielle Costello:<http://www.radiolab.org/story/137407-talking-to-machines/>

Sheila:i loathe facebook as a FB page owner.

Chuck O'Shea - Infopeople:The chat will be a separate text file on the description page jeffrey:here is an open source bot that is super easy to set up <http://www.program-o.com/>

Chat from: Emerging Tech Trends in Libraries - Part 4

June 15, 2016

Sean:I can't find the article right now, but there was a great one on how people are smarter when they're put together in a group, i.e. a group of people predicted more horse race winners than each of those same people individually

Sean:the article explored applying this to AI technology as well

Casey McCoy:Instagram direct messaging is way more used by teens that I thought

Susie Arvidson:I just attended a workshop that discussed how much teens used Twitter. I'm thinking my students use Snapchat and Instagram more.

Patrina Garza:I don't think so, no...

Elayna:Yes, the last library I worked for did.

Shondra:on our ebook platform we do

andrew hissett:ebook yes regular no

Kzink:im not sure but im totally gonna ask about it

Trina:Yes, we have a link in our catalog that leads to Amazon and supports the library.

Susie Arvidson:This advocacy is so true! Word of mouth is key!

Sean:The key to privacy is understanding, and context

Nick:Privacy & Security: Web surf like you got momma over your shoulder.

Danielle Costello:Thank you for sharing with us!

Susie Arvidson:This was great! Thank you!

Wei:Thank you!

Tania:Thanks

Amy Mullin:Thanks you.

Chat from: Emerging Tech Trends in Libraries - Part 4

June 15, 2016

Tamiko W.:Thank you!

Sheila:Thanks so much!

Wendy Wright:Thanks for the Twitter poll tip.

Rebecca Crawford:Thank you

Leizel:Thank You!

Anastasia:Thanks!

Patrina Garza:Thanks so much Laura! This was great; I need to go back and review parts 1-3 in the series.

Nick:Danke!

Sarah Bowling:Thanks

Jeanne Causey:ty

Claire Nickerson:Thanks!

Elayna:Thanks a bunch! This was great.

Joan: thanks!

Kzink:thank you !

Abby:Thanks for all the info!

andrew hissett:That was the best of the series!

Trina:Thank you!

Rose Faber:There is so much to learn. Is there any source that you recommend to check regularly to keep up-to-date?

Sean:thank you!

Chat from: Emerging Tech Trends in Libraries - Part 4

June 15, 2016

Laura Solomon:Rose, I primarily use blogs: Mashable, Wired

Laura Solomon:Ars Technica, Gizmodo

Laura Solomon:Slashdot

Rose Faber:Thanks!

Laura Solomon:np

Karla:the pace is just right, Laura. This felt like an Ignite Session - lots of entry points to dig deeper on our own. Thx!!

Laura Solomon:You're very welcome--good luck!

Jeff T.:Thank you very much!
